

Redalto Communications Privacy Policy

Redalto Communications is committed to protecting the privacy of all our customers and website visitors. Any information that Redalto Communications collects is used solely to improve or deliver services to our customers.

Any information collected by Redalto Communications will never be passed on to third parties for marketing purposes.

The information collected from customers during the ordering process is only used for the purposes of billing, administrating and supporting the products and services we deliver.

The information collected from the website is only used for website and traffic analysis and will not be used to approach website visitors.

In certain circumstances Redalto Communications contracts out services to a third party in order to deliver a particular product such as domain name registration. In such cases, information will be passed on only to ensure delivery of those services. At all times, parties to which we contract services or disclose your personal information are either covered by contracts which protect your personal information or are subject to obligations which are substantially similar to our own.

Redalto Communications maintains several mailing lists for the purpose of sharing news, updates and promotional information. Emails will only be sent from these mailing lists to customers or web visitors who have opted to be on our mailing list the mailing list service. Customers can at any time opt out of a mailing list by clicking the unsubscribe link at the bottom of any emails received.

Redalto Communications may at times communicate with its customers regarding important service impacting issues. These notifications cannot be construed as spam or a breach of the privacy policy as detailed here.

Customers are responsible for any personal or private information contained within their website.

Redalto Communications will endeavour to protect the confidentiality of customers' information, account information and personal communications stored within our service and administration infrastructure. Redalto Communications will use appropriate processes and systems such as data encryption, firewalls, user authentication and verification protocols to protect customer information from misuse, loss and unauthorised access or modification.

By using our website and/or services, you consent to the collection and use of information by Redalto Corporation as specified above.

Should you have any queries relating to our Privacy Policy, please contact us at privacy@redalto.com. If you have any concern about any privacy related issues please send us an e-mail with a thorough description and we will try to resolve it.

Please note our business changes constantly. This Privacy Policy is in effect at the time of use. We may e-mail periodic reminders of our notices and conditions and/or updates, unless you have instructed us not to. Please check this website regularly to view any changes or alterations that may occur to this policy.